October Meeting Agenda

Under Tanzanian Skies

Presented by Russ Burden

BY TONY PARISO

PROGRAMS@LPS.CC

Last year, Russ Burden’s presentation “Cherished Spectacles of Nature” was a big hit with our members. Russ’s photographic skills and his sense of humor combine to create an entertaining evening. Those of you who have visited his website know that he leads nature tours throughout the United States in locations from Florida to Oregon. During the question and answer session after last year’s presentation there appeared to be considerable interest in Russ’s Tanzanian Photography so in October Russ will give a two part presentation entitled, “Under Tanzanian Skies.” Part 1 is a 15-20 minute “How To” Key-note show that demonstrates his fondness for Tanzania. It includes a tutorial of photos that depict his most common tour mottos: It’s All About The Light, Edit Before Pressing the Shutter, Exhaust All Possibilities, Watch For Those Blinkies, and more..... You will be shown examples of images that illustrate what to do before pressing the shutter so you can make award winning safari and wildlife images. Part 2 is a 20 minute presentation of Russ’s safari photos set to music.

<http://www.russburdenphotography.com/>

As in the past, I encourage you to visit Russ’s’ website before the presentation. In addition I know many of you receive Russ’s photo tips and may have questions about various topics. Russ enjoys answering your questions and I’m anticipating another post presentation Q & A as lively as last years.

2017 Board Elections

BY DAVE VAN RIPER

MEMBERSHIP@LPS.CC

Our November meeting will have annual elections for board and chair positions for next year. All positions are open until elections at the November meeting. Most positions have candidates with the exception of the projectionist. Even though there are candidates who volunteered to fill a position it would be nice if others would volunteer as assistants to those positions. This would ensure coverage during vacations and other absences.

The projectionist position, while being a very important one, involves the monthly meeting at the Vineyard and the 3rd Monday photo reviews at the library requiring bringing of the projector, laptop and equipment box and ensuring they are functioning correctly. Some interfacing with monthly presenters may be required.

Please let me know if you are interested in filling the Projectionist position or assistant capacity.

Suggestion Box

Suggestions or comments concerning the club can be submitted here, which in reality is an email to the editor. Your email will be forwarded to the appropriate board member. Thanks for your input!

Russ Burden

Many photographers go on nature hikes in hopes of capturing the beauty before them. Yet when they get home they realize that the settings on their camera weren't set properly. As a result, they spend hours on the computer trying to optimize the photo. Award winning photographer, teacher and instructional tour director, Russ Burden, will share his expertise on how he masters the shot in the moment during this month's Loveland Photographic Society meeting.

Lack of experience can cause frustration when trying to take the perfect shot. Russ is known for directing nature photography tours that have resulted in award winning photography for those who have participated. He shares knowledge that has been acquired from 27 years experience as a photography teacher and work that has been published internationally.

Working the camera is only half the battle. Knowing the best time to approach the environment is where all of the magic happens in nature photography. Prior students have shared numerous testimonials about how Russ has shown them strategy to master light and capture animals in amazing natural settings. He even received the nickname, "Dr. Doolittle" during one of his excursions due to his ability to attract and direct animals during the session "almost on cue."

We are not looking for snapshots and the rules of photojournalism don't apply. Creativity and strong composition along with capturing the human drama will heavily count for this one.
